The Sanctuary on Superior

*Paulina and Superior,
Chicago, Illinois*

This project required the creative rehabilitation and conversion of an existing 19th century Romanesque style church into 14 apartment condominium units. Most of the existing upper level floors sloped for seating. The conversion included complete gutting of the interior space and construction of four new floor levels within existing volume. Rehabilitation of the structure included stabilization of three failing masonry arches with 18 foot spans located at the exterior bearing wall.
